"Fighting crime will be my number one priority. And I'll fight to do things differently."

Gayle Chaneyfield

Fighting crime? Every politician talks about it. But in Newark, it's time to stop talking about crime and start fighting back with every resource we've got.

That's how Gayle Chaneyfield feels. Because she understands what's going on in our streets. Having grown up in Newark's Hayes Homes and Bradley Court, she's seen the effects of crime first hand. She knows it's ripping our city apart.

And she knows our city isn't doing everything it can to make our streets safe.

That's why she wants to fight crime in a new way. She wants to have an anti-crime council in each ward of our city. She wants to enlist representatives from Community Based Organizations, Block Associations, Business Associations and Parents groups in the fight against crime.

It will be the first time in our city's history that all of these groups have come together to make our neighborhoods safe. And isn't it about time we started fighting crime a little bit differently?

Gayle Chaneyfield. She's not from the political clubhouse—that's why she'll do things differently.

Elect Gayle Chaneyfield
Council-at-large.
She'll be the voice the professional politicians can't control.
Vote B-17.
